

GreySellsGlobal Ltd are pleased to confirm a new product representation service with Energy Maritime Associates Pte. Ltd.

GSGL are extremely pleased to be given approval to actively market the unique EMA Floating Production Outlook Report 2019 – 2023 and the Floating Production Systems Quarterly.

The Floating Production Outlook Report is released once a year in December (Q1) and aims to provide a comprehensive view of the FPS market. It provides an overview and detailed five-year forecast of the market by unit type, geography and capex, Global Sentiments Survey of FPS industry executives, case studies of relevant projects, and contractor focus.

The Floating Production Systems Quarterly has been providing regular in-depth project by project analysis and tracking. The flagship report, Floating Production Systems Quarterly now in its 60th edition, is released three times a year in Mar (Q2), June (Q3), and September (Q4). It is an in-depth source for the latest individual project tracking, and the latest analysis on market developments.

Since 1996, the Floating Production Systems Report Series Package, has been the must-read for industry executives and those seeking to understand the offshore market.

Through its in-depth project by project analysis and tracking, in-house analysis and forecasts, exclusive FPS Global Sentiment Survey, readers of the FPS Report Series are provided with the breadth of global market view as well as actionable project specifics.

Clients include FPS unit owners and operators, oilfield owners, national oil companies, finance/banking, major EPC contractors, shipyards and more.

With 200+ pages of analysis released four times a year, the report series provide our clients with analysis that's relevant to their strategic planning and project analysis.

The Report Series Package includes: Full Report, plus Executive Summary (ppt), Data Extract (xls), half hour complimentary consultation with EMA.
